Degree Requirements

- Take and pass all of the coursework required for your degree and concentration.
- File a Plan of Study (mid-point of your studies, by the third semester of coursework) via the interactive iPOS system located on your My ASU page. You should also have an approved supervisory committee.
- Successfully pass written exam during the final semester of study.

Degree Timeline:

All work toward a master's degree must be completed within six consecutive years from the semester of entry.

Graduate Coursework

Every course taken for a master's degree must have a graduate course number (500+). You will not receive graduate credit for courses at the 400-level or below. You may take courses at the 400-level or below, but the courses will not count toward your degree. When courses are double listed under both 400-level and 500-level numbers, always take the 500-level section. Courses at the 600- or 700-level are usually for doctoral students and require permission from your faculty advisor and the instructor of the course. You may take 600-level courses, but check first with the instructor or your faculty advisor.

Other Studies in Music (11-12 credits)

You must take four MHL/MTC course in total. Two courses (3 credits each) must be in musicology or ethnomusicology (MHL prefix). One course (3 credits) must be an analytical course in music theory (MTC prefix). The fourth course (2-3 credits) is also in music theory but may be a non-analytical course. If you plan to complete a doctoral degree at some point, you may wish to fulfill one of your musicology course requirements with MHL 532 Bibliography. You must complete at least three of your four MHL/MTC requirements before you are eligible to take your written comprehensive exam in your final semester of study.

Electives (0-1 credits)

The elective area of the check sheet allows you to customize the degree to meet your specific career interests and needs. Additional ensembles or lessons may count here. You may also take courses elsewhere on campus, as approved by your advisor, but must be at the graduate level to count towards your degree.
